

Mendelssohn Club Scores Triumph In 25th Concert

Fifty-fifth Complimentary Concert by Local Organization Delights Large Audience at High School Auditorium.

To have given hundreds of people an evening of delightful music at the Mendelssohn Club is a record of which the club members are justly proud. What is more, the club has gradually grown artistically and musically, so that their twenty-fifth complimentary concert given at the high school auditorium on Tuesday evening was a real musical achievement, thanks to the skillful training of Harry P. Dodge and the loyal cooperation of the men and their own hard work.

The auditorium was filled to capacity with a keenly appreciative audience gathered to hear the club, assisted by Marjorie Moody, soprano, of New York; Charles Gilbert Spross, pianist, of New York; and the Sauer-Gies Club, Harry P. Dodge conducting and Samuel D. Scudder accompanying the club.

Although many new voices have been added to the Mendelssohn Club in the comparatively short time since their last concert, they have worked in so well that there resulted an increased resonance of tone without any loss of fineness of musicianship. In fact the men are making poetry of their music as well as using poetry to give expression to their music, and their concert is a real musical joy to the trained musician as well as to the music lover.

The Evening's Soloists.

Marjorie Moody of New York, the soloist at Tuesday evening's concert, had a most engaging personality and a fresh, crisp soprano voice that was of a very lovely quality in the lower register. The audience showed their appreciation of her piece de resistance, "Je suis Litanie," from Mignon, by Thomas, by applauding the number until she returned and sang as an encore number "Rain," by Gay. However, Miss Moody found greatest favor with her listeners in a group of songs: "The Little Shepherd Song," by Watts; "He Led Me," by Chadwick, one of the finest things that Miss Moody sang; "Who Knows," by Sticks; "Summer Time," by Ward Stephens.

It took two charming encore numbers to satisfy the audience after this group of songs.

No Mendelssohn Club concert would be quite complete without one or two piano solos by Mr. Spross and he was given a real ovation when he appeared by special request and played "Cantique d'Amour," by Liszt, and for an encore, "Waltz," from "Naida."

The Club Songs.

As for the club itself, the men opened the program with a virile, spirited song marked by a blindingly sharp enunciation as well as richly colored harmonies, "Viking Song," by Colegrave Taylor.

"Morning," by Oley Speaks, was rich in both harmony and melody with rhythmic grace and was well sung. "Rolling Down to Rio" (words by Kipling and music by Edward Gorman), the club gave its full measure of rollicking, swinging music that this man's song calls for. A lovely number was "Where My Caravan Has Rested," by Hermann Lohr.

But the most exquisite song that the Mendelssohn Club sang was "Deep River," an old negro melody arranged by H. T. Burleigh. Sung unaccompanied, it was thrilling in its beautiful tone effects, delicate shading, perfect modulations and its really spiritual interpretation. It held the audience almost breathless.

Two numbers, as different as could be, were rivals for the place of second choice as to the singing by the club. They were "Dance of the Geomies," by Edward Mac Dowell, and "The Bell Man," by Cecil Forsyth. The way in which Forsyth was conjured up and made real in the hands of the Geomies was fascinating and remarkably well done in both an interpretative and musical sense.

The quiet dignity of "The Bell Man" (Stratford, April 23, 1816, Shakespeare's death-day) was put across to the intensely listening audience with rarely beautiful tone effects and a true appreciation of the song by the soloist.

The closing number of the program was "The Omnipotence" by Schubert, arranged by Liszt. In this the Mendelssohn Club was assisted by the Sauer-Gies Club and by Miss Moody, whose quality of voice and excellent musicianship made her an ideal soloist and the best of voices. This rich orchestral number was enthusiastically received by the audience.

The Officers and active members of the Mendelssohn Club are: Arthur C. Connelly, president; Charles S. Miller, vice president; James S. Miller, treasurer; John T. R. Hall, treasurer; Edward A. Burger, secretary.

16 Known Dead In Storm Which Sweeps Pacific

Greatest Tragedy in Mountain Camp of Southern California Edison Company Where Eleven Were Killed—Bridge Collapses Under Weight of Train.

Sau Francisco, Feb. 16 (AP).—The tail-end of the greatest storm in the Pacific coast states in the history of the weather bureau continued today to pound, but with diminishing violence in southern and central California. The toll stood at 16 dead, with 21 injured and much property damage.

The greatest tragedy was in the mountain camp of the southern California Edison Company, 75 miles east of Fresno, where eleven persons were killed in a double avalanche early yesterday. The first snowslide crushed bunk houses and sent ten men to their death. As rescuers dug in the accumulated snow for the bodies of their companions, the second avalanche struck and took another life.

Flood waters in Puente Creek, near Whittier, which had assailed the steel trestle across the stream for three days so weakened the structure that it collapsed as the Los Angeles-Chicago flyer of the Union Pacific moved across it last night, plunging engine, tender and two coaches into the flood. Two are known dead, three others were believed trapped in one of the coaches. Six persons were injured.

Two Killed in Traffic Mishaps.

Two were killed in Los Angeles traffic accidents. A boy was drowned when he fell from a San Diego railroad trestle into a raging torrent, which two days before had been a dry creek bed. One hundred suburbanites in the San Fernando valley, near Los Angeles, marooned in their homes by the flood waters, were rescued by police in row boats commandeered from an amusement park.

In the stricken mountain camp rescue crews worked late into the night in search of bodies in the snow but awaited the arrival of coroner of Fresno, before continuing the work today.

Belief was expressed that some of the bodies are buried so deeply that they would not be recovered until the spring thaws.

Edison Company officials said all of the injured were recovered. Rude coffins were fashioned out of the available lumber at the camp for the bodies which had been taken out of the slide.

One hundred men of the camp were at work in a tunnel about a mile under the surface when the first avalanche struck. They were brought out immediately.

The slides mercilessly left the camp hospital building standing but demolished every structure near it. Seven buildings were crushed to splinters. The loss was put at $25,000.

Entire Coast Hit.

The entire Pacific coast felt some manifestation of the storm. A slight earthquake shock was felt in San Francisco yesterday afternoon. Tremor caused some excitement in Watsonville and was felt in other places in the bay region but no damage was reported.

Hollywood firemen rescued a group of motorists who were left stranded when a bridge went out near Universal City.

Highway traffic throughout the southland was demoralized by landslides and high water. Rail communication between Los Angeles and San Diego was out. La Verda Hot Springs, a health resort in Orange county, was washed away but there were no casualties. A hurricane at Taft ripped the roofs off several buildings.

Miss Renee Adoree, motion picture actress, and 59 of her colleagues were snowed in at Mammoth Hot Springs in the high Sierras. Food was sent to them by airplane.

The affected area extended from the Aleutian Islands to Lower California and from the coast to the Hawaiian Islands. Many steamers radioed that they would be delayed.

Sun Turns Down Kellogg Proposal

From Exempting Shanghai From the War Area in Present Struggle—Prepare For Battle Which May Determine Control of Shanghai.

Shanghai, Feb. 16 (AP).—The proposal of American Secretary of State Kellogg for exempting Shanghai from the war area in the present struggle between north and south came to naught today when the commissioner of foreign affairs of this (Kiangsu) province issued a statement in the name of Marshal Sun Chuan-fang, Shanghai defender, declining to accept it.

Officials of the Cantonese government, whose military forces also were given a copy of Mr. Kellogg's proposals, previously had indicated their disapproval of the plan.

"We can only regard the effort of any foreign power to place limitations on the Kiangsu forces as intervention in favor of the enemy," says the statement issued in Marshal Sun's name.

The statement adds that the proposal "undoubtedly was inspired by a sincere desire to help China," but that it shows Mr. Kellogg "had not been fully advised regarding conditions here."

Meanwhile reliable foreign news sources indicated that the Cantonese army had made some headway in Chekiang province, south of here, where nationalist and northern armies have been facing each other for many days preparatory for a battle which was expected to determine control of Shanghai.

Spokesmen for Marshal Sun, leader of the northern army in Chekiang, were unable to deny claims of the Nationalists that they had re-occupied Chuchow, from which they recently were driven. Missionaries in Chuchow also reported the Cantonese had taken the city. Other reports said the left wing of Marshal Sun's army had been "pushed back."

In Shanghai there were no developments except that two battalions of Punjabi troops which arrived here yesterday but were prevented from landing because of a fog, remained aboard ship pending completion of more barracks on British property.

Shipping Suffers From Heavy Fog

London, Feb. 16 (AP).—Shipping interests estimate that the fog which blanketed the English Channel for five days caused enormous losses not in life or damage to vessels, but in time. They figure that the time lost through the holding up of vessels in the Thames estuary alone was worth a million pounds.

The worst of the fog, unequalled in 25 years, appeared to be over this morning, the mists having shifted to the west and become patchy. Many ships which had been held at their docks were able to start. Unless weather forecasters are all wrong, cross channel services, both sea and air will be running on normal schedule again in a few hours.

From coast to coast the channel was fogbound since last Friday, among the vessels held up being the Cunard liner Ascania, on the voyage from New York. The service of the Imperial Airways had to be suspended for the first time since it was inaugurated.

Fireman Killed When Roof Falls

Williamsport, Pa., Feb. 16 (AP).—One fireman was killed and scores of persons were driven from their beds early today by fire which destroyed the Link Block of four-story brick buildings here with an estimated loss of $1,000,000.

Fireman Charles T. Mahoney plunged into the flames when a roof collapsed under him. A second fireman falling grasped a ledge and escaped injury.

Sleepers trapped on the upper floors, including women and children, were carried to safety down ladders. Fifteen fire companies united in fighting the flames.

The ground floor of the block was occupied by a theatre and three stores with residential apartments and offices above.

Aldermen Favor Voting Machines For Use Here

Adopt Committee's Report Recommending That Steps Be Taken to Install Machines—Water Board's Petition to Issue $300,000 in Bonds Sent to Committee.

The common council with but two dissenting votes went on record Tuesday evening in favor of installing voting machines in each election district in Kingston, when the report of the special committee recommending the installation was adopted. A petition from the water board asking permission to issue $300,000 in bonds to cover cost of proposed improvements this year to the water system was referred to the finance ways and means committee with the request that the committee report at the March meeting.

Owing to the fact that Alderman-at-large C. Ray Everett is confined to his home with an attack of grip, the common council elected Alderman Sam N. Mann of the Sixth ward as temporary chairman of the meeting.

The water board in its petition set forth that it was desirous of issuing $300,000 in bonds to pay for the cost of improvements now being made to the water system including the completion of the equalization reservoir at Sawkill, installation of more fire hydrants, extension of the water mains and general betterment of the entire system. It was stated that it was believed the amount asked for would cover the cost of the work contemplated during this year.

The petition was referred to the finance ways and means committee to report back at the March meeting of the council.

Claims $5,000 Damages.

Mrs. Julia A. Freese of Saugerties filed a claim for $5,000 damages against the city for injuries she alleged she had sustained in a fall on an icy walk on Wall street on December 11, 1926. She is represented by Attorney Grant M. Brininger. The claim was referred to the corporation counsel.

The Voting Machine Report.

Alderman Philip DeGarmo of the First ward, as chairman of the special committee on voting machines submitted a report favoring the installation of machines in Kingston. The other members of the committee, all of whom signed the report, were Aldermen Sam N. Mann, James T. O'Reilly and A. D. Relyea.

Among other things the report stated that the committee had made inquiry relative to voting machines in many cities and towns in the state and all of them endorsed the use of the machines. "From the municipal research bureau of the New York State Conference of Mayors we have a report of their state wide investigation of voting machines, which shows that only three or four cities in the state now conduct election by paper ballots, while more than fifty cities including New York city have adopted the use of voting machines at a considerable saving in expense and an improvement in the elections."

"Many years ago when this city was redivided into the present twenty election districts the total vote was less than 3,000, and each district was divided so as to contain as near as possible an equal number of voters. Since then although the city has increased in population the number of election districts have remained the same while the number of voters contained in many of these districts have almost doubled."

"At the election of November, 1925, the number of voters had increased to 12,015, and eight of the districts had an unusually large number of voters." The report then gave a list of the eight districts which polled over 600 votes each. The report then continued: "The large number of voters in these districts tends to create delay and confusion to the voters casting their ballot and adds greatly to the work and long hours of the election officers."

"Seven New Election Districts."

"Should these districts be divided to conform with provisions of the paper ballot law, it will be necessary for the city to add at least seven more districts to its present equipment."

"To create these additional districts the expense to the city for fixed charges such as pay of election officers, rent of polling places and the necessary booths, ballot boxes, tables, chairs etc., will amount to $2,577." The report also stated that where machines were used no election clerks are necessary and that would mean a saving of forty clerks in the present twenty districts at $10 each totaling $400, or a total saving on the seven districts and forty clerks of $2,977.

Machine Cost $10,000.

"The machines cost $24 each or $1,920 for the twenty necessary to equip the city."

"Paid Out of Savings."

"Arrangements can be made with the manufacturers of the machines to furnish machines to the city and allow them to be paid for out of the amount the machines will save from year to year. In this way the machines will save their entire cost in five or six years."

"Another thing to be considered (Continued on Page 12)

Trolleys to Use B'way Crossing

Starting Thursday Morning If Frog Is Laid—To Maintain Ten Minute Time—Cars to Run Only to East Union Street.

Commencing Thursday morning the trolley cars will use the Broadway crossing instead of the Colonial Subway if the trolley frog being re-laid on the crossing is completed by that time. With the restoration of trolley service over the Broadway crossing the trolley road will operate only as far as North street and East Union street in order to maintain ten minute headway.

At present trolley cars have been operating as far as Hart's Corner, as Delaware avenue and North street, is known to the older residents, but when the cars commence running over the Broadway crossing, the cars will stop at Union street unless there is a passenger on board who desires to go to Hart's Corner.

With the trolley cars running as far as Union street, the motorman if he sees a passenger standing at Hart's Corner waiting for the car, will run down and pick the passenger up.

The reason why it is not possible to operate to Hart's Corner and make ten minute headway, according to the trolley officials, is the long distance that must be covered by the trolley cars.

The following table shows the distance in feet between switches on the trolley system:

North Front and Wall streets to St. James switch ..... 3,639 feet
St. James to cigar factory 3,876
Cigar factory to St. Mary's ..... 3,899
St. Mary's to ferry ..... 3,218
Ferry to Union street ..... 3,898
Ferry to Hart's Corner 5,004

The above table shows that from the ferry to Hart's Corner is a trifle over five thousand feet which is considerably longer than the distance between the other switches on the road.

According to the trolley officials it will be impossible to cover that extra distance between the ferry and Hart's Corner and continue ten minute headway on the entire system, and that was the reason why the cars would only run to Union street.

Mrs. Chaplin to Reoccupy Home

Los Angeles, Feb. 16 (AP).—Lila Grey Chaplin, who left the home of her screen star husband Charlie Chaplin here last November with the declaration that she never would go back, recanted today and made ready to return to the 40 room mansion because she is "tired of living on borrowed money."

Mrs. Chaplin, who yesterday received permission of the courts to reoccupy the Chaplin residence, will remain there with her two babies pending decision of the divorce case she has filed. If she collects temporary alimony, which to date has not been forthcoming in spite of the appointment of receivers for Chaplin's property in California, she will receive only $3,000 a month instead of the $4,000 monthly award previously allowed.

In permitting her to reoccupy the Chaplin home, the court lopped $1,000 from the monthly figure. This is the amount she says she has been paying for rent since the estrangement.

Movie Cowboys Stage Real Fight

Universal City, Cal., Feb. 16 (AP).—A feud between two cowboys employed at a motion picture zoo here was handed over to the law today for settlement after a shooting on a movie set here yesterday, resulting in the critical wounding of George Emerson, 35, and lesser injuries to George Wondery, his antagonist.

Emerson is in a hospital and Wondery was held by the police.

Jealousy over their animal charges in the movie zoo, was said to have led to the shooting. Wondery told the officers he fired in self defense after accepting a challenge to a duel.

Emerson's wife, however, said her husband was unarmed and that Wondery was shot through the hand when he attempted to wrest from her a pistol as she hurried to the aid of Emerson. Police said their investigation tended to show her story to be the more correct version of the affair.

Turner Still on Hunger Strike

Portland, Maine, Feb. 16 (AP).—Richard H. Turner, convicted murderer of James B. Hinkle, continued today his refusal to eat anything until before him in the county jail. For five days he has taken nothing but water.

His removal to the state prison at Thomaston to begin his life sentence was being delayed pending a decision as to whether an appeal shall be taken to the law court.

Turner persists in refusing to his counsel as an injustice.

"I had to kill Hinkle," he said, "and I had to kill Hinkle."

Harry C. Lally, one of his counsel, said he was his life of crime.

Mal Daugherty Tells of Family

Brother of Former Attorney-General Tells How He Rose from Janitor to Be Bank President—Sketches History of Daugherty Family.

Federal Court, New York, Feb. 16 (AP).—A story of how he rose from janitor to be president of two banks was told today by Mal S. Daugherty, government witness in the Daugherty-Miller trial.

Mal was recalled for cross-examination. He has testified yesterday about missing records of the Midland National Bank, one of the two Washington Courthouse, Ohio, banks of which he is president.

He told how his brother, Harry M. Daugherty, former attorney-general, burned ledger sheets which the government contends would have shown that part of an alleged bribe of $441,000 went to Harry Daugherty's account. Harry Daugherty and Thomas W. Miller, former allied property custodian, are charged with defrauding the United States of their best services in connection with the transfer of $7,000,000 impounded assets of the American Metal Company. The $441,000 "bribe," the government alleges, was paid to hasten the transfer.

Mal Daugherty sketched the history of the Daugherty family. His mother, he said, was in her nineteenth year, still living on the ground in Washington Courthouse where she was born.

Harry Daugherty, he said, is 67 years old, two years older than himself. At the age of 19 Mal became janitor in the Midland National Bank, rose to bookkeeper and after filling every position in the bank became president. He is also president of the Commercial Bank, he said.

Going into the receipt of liberty bonds bearing serial numbers of those bearing Richard Merton, agent of the Societe Suisse, paid the late John T. King, then Republican national committeeman from Connecticut, Mal Daugherty said that Jess W. Smith, Harry's handyman, who "lived just across the street from me," brought them into the bank a few days before he committed suicide.

There was a deficit in a political fund of which Smith had charge, Mal Daugherty said.

WITNESSES LAGUARDIA

WOULD PLACE ON STAND

Washington, Feb. 16 (AP).—A partial list of witnesses Representative Laguardia wants to testify in the hearing of impeachment charges against Federal Judge Frank Cooper of northern New York, was submitted to the House Judiciary Committee today and included prohibition Commissioner Roy A. Haynes, E. C. Yellowley, now administrator at Chicago, and R. Q. Merrick, with whom Cooper is charged with having conspired to entrap bootleggers.

Others whose testimony is sought include Charles M. Forbes, Charles H. Parkes and Michael Stapleton, three agents who participated in the campaign in upper New York which resulted in bringing nearly 40 cases before Judge Cooper.

Laguardia requested the chairman to produce a letter written by Cooper to Merrick which Laguardia charges was the starting point of the drive against bootleggers.

BILL TO CHANGE TIME

OF DAYLIGHT SAVING

Daylight saving time in the cities of the state will be in effect only from May 15 to September 15 if a bill favorably reported by the Assembly cities committee on Tuesday is passed. It is that of Assemblyman Theodore L. Rogers of Herkimer. The present daylight saving period is from the last Sunday in April to the last Sunday in September.

The localities will still have the power of determining by local ordinance whether they shall have daylight saving or not. Upstate rural communities have always opposed daylight saving on the ground that it interfered with farm work.

ABANDONED AUTO

FOUND AT ST. REMY

The sheriff's office was notified by telephone this morning that a Hudson touring car was found at the top of the St. Remy hill, evidently abandoned. The license plates were numbered 28-5488 and inquiry at the local motor vehicle bureau showed that the plates were issued for a Ford car to Ralph Hommel, R. F. D., Sauertons. It was said that Mr. Hommel lives in Saxton and efforts were made to get in touch with him to ascertain if he owned the Hudson car, whether it was stolen or a Ford car plates were attached to it.

Riches Mock Woman; Lonely, Kills Self

Waterbury, Conn.—Lulu Morden, who came East alone ten years ago with a determination to succeed in the business world, and who accomplished her desire to the extent of some half million dollars is dead by her own hand because in her eagerness for financial independence she neglected to make any friends.

Loneliness developed into despair, and so the president and treasurer of the Morden Manufacturing company, doing a business of $170,000 a year, turned on the gas in one of the 16 rooms of her large home here.

Miss Morden started her business of making loose-leaf books and stationery appliances with almost nothing and when she died the business was employing 300 men, and she had accumulated a fortune of about $500,000.

About the best way to save your gas bills is to paste them into your scrap book.

HERE IS RING THAT ALWAYS COMES BACK

Fish Brought It From Sea and Parship Rescued It From Earth.

Chester, N. S.—This is a story of buried treasure, of sparkling gems and gold lost and buried for many years near Chester, N. S.

Nearly thirty years ago the British sailing ship "Cromatyrshire" and the French liner "La Burgogne" collided off Sable Island. "La Burgogne" sank in a few minutes and hundreds of people lost their lives.

At this time Lorne Naus, a native of Chester, was dormitory with a man named Young, sailing in a bank he-merman out of Gloucester, Mass. While dressing fish one afternoon the schooner being anchored at the time somewhere on the western bank. Young picked from the maw of a large cod an object that gleamed and sparkled in the sunshine. It was a man's ring of heavy yellow gold set with two fine rubies, one oval-shaped one square, cut in that smooth rounded polish that gives the best color effect.

Ring Given Up for $20.

Of course it was a nine-day wonder among the crew and the ring was greatly admired. When the crew were paid off at the end of the trip Young proceeded to celebrate as soon as he got on shore, and in consequence found himself without sufficient funds to pay his way home. He borrowed $20 from his dormitory and gave him as security the ruby ring.

Naus kept the ring for years, but it was never redeemed. In the course of time he quitted the sea, married and settled down in Chester. Occasionally he wore the ring which had such an unusual history; but about twenty years ago it mysteriously disappeared. Diligent search was made for it without success; finally it was given up as lost and was forgotten.

Find it in Parship.

Naus devotes his leisure time to a fine vegetable and flower garden. One day not long ago he was busy pulling parsnips to store for winter when his attention was attracted by a gleam as of metal half-way up the root of one of the plants. Examination disclosed the long lost ring, firmly imbedded in the vegetable.

The square shaped ruby was missing, and a tiny crack was beginning to show in the narrowest part of the ring, due to the growth of the root it encircled, but otherwise the ring was in as perfect condition as when lost twenty years ago.

Woman Cuts Her Throat, Increasing Life Weeks

London, Eng.—When Mrs. Jeannine Thomas, sixty-three years old, near here, cut her throat in an attempt to end her life she prolonged her existence.

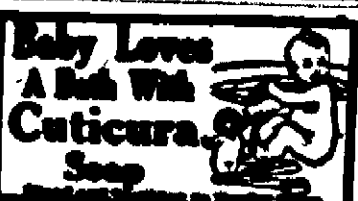

This curious fact developed at the inquest on the woman, who died in a hospital two months after she cut her throat. She suffered from nephritis, physicians revealed, and this disease prompted her to attempt suicide.

In cutting her throat she missed the main arteries, and the resulting hemorrhage reduced her blood pressure. This relieved pressure on her brain that would have killed her in short time, doctors said. The loss of blood kept her alive six weeks.

Loves Fortune, Then Wins Wife and Seven Children

Rockford, Mass.—Within two weeks Ray Stiller lost a fortune of $200,000, married a widow with seven children, and was paid for $25,000 in a breach of promise suit. Now he is trying to figure out whether he is lucky or unlucky.

Stiller did not really lose the fortune. It never existed. There was a mistake in the figures, and it turned out to be just $2,000. Then he married his cook, who had seven children by a previous marriage. His honeymoon was interrupted by a girl who demanded $25,000 saying that Stiller had promised to marry her.

"DEVIL" LETTERS TRACED BY LAW

Defective Letter in Machine
Reveals Writer.

Danville, Va.—A local committee of investigation has established the authorship of nine anonymous letters signed "The Devil," which were sent through the mails to the nine Danville ministers who recently voted against extending an invitation to Evangelist M. F. Ham to come to Danville.

The development is likely to add to discontent between laymen and the organized ministry in Danville and is upsetting the movement started by older churchmen who are trying to relegate to the background an issue in which they see danger to the church generally.

The anonymous letters typewritten, express to the ministers the keen appreciation of "his saturnal majesty for promoting his kingdom on earth" and contain unflattering references to the ministers' character and religion.

A professional man who was suspected denied that he wrote the letters, but one of the investigators secured entry to his office, took a specimen of work from his typewriter, and found that one of the letters had the same flaw as that appearing in all of the anonymous letters.

The professional man was shown "the proof." He excused himself by saying that he had not "written" the letters but had dictated them. He said that he was laboring under high religious strain at the time. His name has not been made public.

Third Musical Assoc. Concert

The third concert in the series of three concerts being given this year by the Ulster County Musical Association will be held at the high school auditorium on Friday evening of this week, beginning at 8:15 o'clock. The attraction at this concert will be the Elshuco Trio of New York City. Of this trio the New York Sun says: "This organization has won a firm and honorable position in New York's musical world. . . . Their interpretation of their programs reveal in no uncertain manner, the increasing artistic stature which these players present. The conventional matters of technique, tone and command of mood and color, are plentifully evident. But the important characteristics of their concerts are the fine, sensitive spirit underlying the readings, the firm grasp of the composer's message, and the power to establish it in definite terms, often striking; always vital and effective." The program for the Friday evening concert follows:

Cruck Reported

Truck Was Seized

Report of Theft of Ford Truck by A. J. Pratt of New Palitz Tuesday Led to Interesting Developments.

Yesterday morning A. W. Pratt of Palitz reported to the police department that his Ford truck had been stolen from Fair street and a car alarm was sent out by the department. About 4 o'clock that afternoon the police learned that the truck had not been stolen, but had been seized by an agent of the Finance Corporation and could be returned at Sutfill, Inc.

As a result of police J. Classes at 1. M. C. U. A. Get Out to Good Start—Members May Enroll Up to Thursday, February 24.

The class in public speaking under Prof. A. Bruce Bennett of the State Normal School of New Paltz, has gained momentum to a very favorable degree. Twenty-one men are now enrolled in this course with quite a number of more prospects. It was decided to give full credit to those enrolling up to Tuesday evening, February 22.

The matter of omitting the session next Tuesday on account of Washington's Birthday anniversary was discussed, but was decided on account of the brief time which the school could run. It was very important to take full advantage of it and not skip any class sessions.

Prof. Bennett gave a very interesting review of what the class had gone over previously for the benefit of the new members. It is his plan to call for two minute talks from the members thus conducting to some degree laboratory work. One hour will be given, from 7:30 to 8:30, to solid thinking and discussion and as much time after that to those desiring to bring up questions in general on the subject.

Whittier, Cal., Feb. 16 (AP).—Rescuers and wrecking crews battled the raging flood waters of Puente creek, five miles north of here, today in their effort to search the forward section of the Los Angeles-Chicago Union Pacific liner which last night broke through an undermined steel trestle across the stream, causing a known loss of two lives.

The swirling currents of the flooded stream prevented searchers from breaking into the overturned dining car, which landed in mid-stream and is believed to contain the bodies of at least three more persons.

As the train moved over the trestle, a part of its supports buckled and the locomotive, tender, diner and a baggage car, plunged into the torrent. The initial casualty list stood at two dead and six injured.

 cence of the interior of his tomb is lasting indication—could hardly have been more spectacular than the long delayed obsequies of the late Emperor of Japan, which combined all ancient ceremonial with every added touch made possible by modern scientific discovery.

The distinguished president of Columbia University tells the politicians that they must face squarely three issues, making known their attitude "with definiteness and precision." The three issues are probhibition, farm relief and foreign policy, but the difficulty is that in the view of most of the politicians the only satisfactory way in which to deal with them is to dodge them.

There is constant pressure to force the state into business. Just at present, attacks seem to be centered on casualty insurance, not because private companies are failing to render suitable service, but because the number of people who are safeguarded by casualty insurance is growing so rapidly, and is a tempting bait for political maneuvers. A few states maintain a monopoly
 of workmen's compensation insurance to the exclusion of private companies. In other states, such as California, where competition in furnishing workmen's compensation insurance is permitted, an effort is being made by the Industrial Accident Commission to create a monopoly to the exclusion of private companies.

THE "GAB" WAY TO FAME.

A popular way to fame seems to be to propose some revolutionary scheme which would destroy an industry or deprive large numbers of individuals of their personal or property rights. Writers or politicians who would upset our whole business structure, but who can guarantee no practical substitute for established practices, get wide publicity and are heralded as brainy
 men and great friends of the people.
 The executive who has to figure out practical plans for producing and distributing a product, who has to show a profit on his operations in order to employ labor at good wages and secure capital for additions and betterments to his plant, who has to pay the taxes to carry out every scheme that is proposed which makes it harder for him to do business, is painted as an enemy of the people.

One man is a non-producer, a non-employer and a tax-absorber. The other is a producer, an employer and a tax-payer. The first is heralded with brass bands, and his utterances occupy pages of newspaper and magazine space. The other passes by unnoticed. If the first man with his flowery speeches and impractical ideas, ran for public office as an opponent of the producer, the tax-payer
 and the employer, he would probably be elected on the ground that he did not represent "big business" as did his opponent. The road to public popularity is too often a path of destruction, because advocating constructive policies is not sensational.

THE SAME OLD TIGER.

A vivid picture of "The New Tammany" at work on election day recently was drawn by witnesses before the Committee on Privileges and Elections of the State Senate.

Old methods of securing majorities for the Fourteenth Street organization by ballot box stuffing and alteration of election records are matters of history. In the present instance, however, the enlightened
 New York City Democracy is discovered tampering with the voting machines established in a few election districts below the Bronx for the first time last year.

Witnesses stated that Tammany inspectors accompanied voters into machine booths in violation of the law. In other instances record was kept of the ballot by applying an eye to a slit in the curtain, while the voter manipulated the machine. One voting place had the voting machine
 so placed it could not be supervised
 as required by law.

A sign, "No drink to get up to the machine" voted a straight Tam-

many ticket, via a Fourteenth Street
 district captain, according to another witness.

These disclosures of wholesale violation of the election law were brought out in a contest of the election of Abraham Greenberg, Democrat, in the Seventeenth Senate District, brought by former State Senator Courtlandt Nicoll, Republican.

Testimony so far shows "The New Tammany" brazenly and unlawfully applying the same old methods to roll up majorities.

While all must admire the work of the brilliant surgeon, whose knowledge, care, and skill during the operation means perhaps life itself, nevertheless the real safety of the patient is dependent upon the family physician.

I mean in these acute cases where the abdomen must be opened for an emergency condition.

Because it is the early recognition
 of a condition, and getting the necessary operation immediately underway, that gives the surgeon his best chance to perform the operation successfully.

Dr. G. H. Murphy of Halifax
 points out that the general practitioner therefore, is the one who bears the weight of the responsibility and should receive the credit.

It is he that must talk to the patient and family. He must tell them about the physiology or use of the part affected, how the ailment is interfering with its proper activity,
 what the result will be if the condition is allowed to progress even for a few hours.

He must be able to so place the matter before the patient and friends that they will follow his advice implicitly.

And in order to do this he must know his own work thoroughly and likewise his patient and the patient's family.

He must make an examination of the patient, and learn all he can about any previous or similar pains in abdomen; the exact location of the pain, where it first started,
 where it is now definitely located
 and so forth, temperature, pulse, appearance of shock, and everything else. Then by weighing all the evidence, he must decide and decide quickly as to the need of surgical interference.

So remember then that whilst surgeons are deserving of all the praise bestowed upon them for brilliant clean results, nevertheless the life of the patient was really at the mercy of the family physician whose knowledge and painstaking examination gave the early diagnosis which made the surgeon's results possible,
 and meant safety for the patient.

Andries De Witt.
 Another son of Tjerk Claesen De Witt, of course, but of interest as showing his mother's family name, which was an Amsterdam family. It may be that the coat-of-arms, which was delineated by Nicholas Van der Lyn, was of this Amsterdam family,
 since on record is the use of another,
 in settling the estate of Tjerk, that should be verified.

Jockam Hendrixon (Jochem Hend-ricksen Schoonmaker.)
 His father had been a soldier in the service of the West India Company, part of which was at Fort Orange. He settled there and when the Esopus colony opened opportunities,
 was quick to see the advantage here.

While in Beverwyck he was Lieutenant of the Burger Guard.
 Mr. Van Buren's article in the Freeman, January 24, 1927, has allusions to the development of names.
 He implies that names originated with the emigrant, which is not quite the fact, or how can we account for the fact that our most familiar names exist today in The Netherlands.

That at some early date family names did crystallize is true. The various Dictionaries of Place and Family Names are interesting human documents. Berthold Fernow writing on
 "New Amsterdam Family Names," speaks of the system of nomenclature of the Greeks and Romans.
 Coming a little nearer to our day he says "Among the Teutonic races, the earliest and most widely spread class
 and family names were totemistic,
 and frequently derived from animals
 and plants." We do not stop to translate them or think about it.

Yos is Fox; De Peyster, the shepherd; Visser or Vacher is Fisher;
 De Forest is Forest; Kip is chicken; (the farmer says kip, kip as he calls his fowls to eat, not at all realizing he is talking Dutch); Ten Eyck is from the oak, or having characteristics of that sturdy tree. Cuykendall shows the interchange of K and C.
 We have the Kijkuit, the hill used as a lookout; dal was daal or dal; the valley. In Groningen, the old city of the Frisian North, there is a street
 "Kyk-in't-Jat" (pronounced kyk-into-yat), look or peep into it. At the corner of this street is a house with the head of a bearded man on it, with an inscription, "I still look into it." This has been the badge of the city since the 16th century.

The first of this name came from Gelderland, where there are hills and dales. Berg en Dal, on the frontier near Nymwegen (Nymegen) is a series of wonderful hills and dales.
 Nymwegen itself is the Noymagus of the Romans, perhaps chosen by them because it is an amphitheatre of seven hills. All that country is like the Hudson River country, as it is the Rhine country,
 where the river enters the Dutch boundary. Near there on another arm of the River Waal, is Wageningen, and also Rosendall (Rosendale).
 The Roosas originated in Gelderland,
 may be that was the locality.

How Plague Humbled Athens
 THE Long Wall of Athens, for many years the bulwark of her power, at last became the cause of the city's downfall, inviting into the city a foe far more terrible than the cruel and hardy Spartans.

The Peloponnesian war followed the expulsion of the Persians from Greece.
 Fierce rivalry sprang up between the late allies, Athens and Sparta. Pericles, the Athenian sage, connected dependence upon the maritime supremacy of Athens. The fleet was maintained on a high standard of numbers and efficiency. To render impotent the great army of Sparta, Athens strengthened her great wall, making it impregnable against ancient methods of siege.

Year after year, the Spartan army
 advanced into Attica, laying waste
 the country, compelling farmers to take refuge in the city and then laying siege to Athens. It was a hopeless business. Simply said behind their great wall and protected at sea by their great fleet, the Athenians carried on commerce without hindrance.
 The city strong towers contained a mighty store of treasure and pre-visions came regularly from across the sea. Spartans might rage and threaten in vain. Athenians laughed and joked with their powerful foe.

But there came a year when the Spartans received aid from an unexpected and terrible source. The Spartans had invaded Attica so usual about the time crops were ripening in the fields. The space within the walls was crowded. Many families took refuge in a single house. Then ships from Asia brought the plague.

The disease ravaged the multi-tudine of modern Athens. It descended upon its victims suddenly and usually killed them within a week. Those who survived were left alone or oppressed. Primitive customs, consisting of charms and sacrifices, failed absolutely. Among the victims was Pericles.
 The Spartan army withdrew to a distance in fear of contagion.

For two years the plague raged and drew a year and a half later it continued. Crime and immorality followed in its wake and the greatness of Athens was laid low. It was many years before the again became a power in Greece, worthy of the city of Sparta.

Renee Adoree is the handsome little French actress who scored such a big success in "The Big Parade." Her advice on colors women of certain complexions should wear is regarded as worth while by young women—as well as by elderly women.

THE WHY of SUPERSTITIONS
 BY H. IRVING KING

PEARLS

THERE is an ancient and deeply rooted superstition that pearls
 have such a sympathetic connection with their owner that they lose their luster when the owner sickens
 and change to a dull and lifeless hue
 when the owner dies. Madame Thiers had a famous necklace of pearls presented to her by her husband, the president of France, which she left in her will to the French nation. The story at once began to go abroad that these pearls had "sickened and died"
 owing to the death of their owner.
 This story appeared at intervals for several years and came to be accepted by the majority of people as a "strange fact." Then Dr. George Frederic Kunz, an authority on the history of precious stones, went to the Louvre where the necklace was deposited and made an examination.
 He had the director of the Louvre museum write him a letter on the subject and the director in the letter stated that the pearls were then and had always been in a perfectly "healthy" state. The story had no foundation whatever and yet there are thousands today who will quote you Madame Thiers' pearls as a proof of the truth of the superstition.

Doctor Kunz suggests that this idea of the "sickening and death" of pearls
 was invented by unscrupulous persons to account for the deteriorated appearance of gems which were no good in the first place. But the antiquity and ubiquity of the superstition would hardly bear out that supposition. The origin of the superstition must be looked for among those mystic and mythological conceptions with which the ancients surrounded the pearl, principally it would seem because of the (to them) mystery of its origin.
 The deus of heaven according to Pliny, the tears of the Nalada according to the Greeks, the blood of a princess according to the Tongvines,
 are among the many origins anciently assigned for the pearl. And always the pearl has been accredited with possessing a particular affinity with its owner or wearer. Some primitive people today wear them as amulets
 to bring them health and luck, while others reject them as bringing bad luck and sapping their vitality. As late as 1892 a German scientist carefully discussed the question as to whether the mysterious deaths of Poppo IV and Paul II might not have been largely caused by the great number of pearls those pontiffs wore in the habit of wearing.

"PIGMY"

THIS is a word that comes to us
 out of the page of Greek mythology, where we find the "pygmies," a nation of dwarfs, who lived near the sources of the Nile, or, as some authorities have placed them, in India.
 The "Pygmies" took their name
 from the Greek word which means a child, the old measurement for about 13 inches, which described their height.

In Homer we learn of the crew,
 who used to migrate every winter to the Pygmy country and whose appearance was always the signal of warfare to the little dwarfs, who had to arm themselves against their foe.
 Later writers tell of an army of Pygmies who found the great Magician in a deep sleep and prepared (in regular army formation, we presume) to attack him. The giant, however, awakened, laughed, wrapped
 them all up in his lion's skin and carried them away.

Value Comparison Always Invited

THE STOCK & CORDTS STORE is known as one of the very finest furniture concerns in New York State.

Because there are those who mentally associate supremacy in quality of merchandise with high prices, it is assumed by some persons that STOCK & CORDTS is high priced.

When this misunderstanding exists it invariably occurs because price comparison has not been made.

While the STOCK & CORDTS Store is proud of its recognized leadership and of the very high quality and distinctive character of the merchandise shown in its store, this institution is equally proud of the value offered at all times.

It is, therefore, that we cordially invite you to visit our big store, Downtown, and make a careful and critical comparison of values.

THE WIDE-AWAKE WIND

It was long past the time when most people were in bed. It was late and even those who had felt quite wide-awake at bedtime were now sound asleep.

Only the wind was wide-awake. And why not? The wind had been sleeping for three whole days.

That is a pretty long sleep and enough certainly to rest a strong and energetic old creature like the wind.

He had been asleep in his own sleeping place. For of course you know the wind has a special place where he goes and sleeps.

It is a wonderful place and although no human has ever seen it the fairies and the brownies, the birds and the breezes, the clouds and the sun, all know about it.

And people know a little bit about it, too. At least they know, after a fashion, that the wind has a place where he goes when he wants to sleep. For when the wind quiets down after the wind has been blowing and tearing about, people say:

"The wind has died down."

The wind always has gone to his sleeping place when they say that.

Then the breezes blow just softly and gently enough so that it soothes the wind and makes him sleep so restfully, then the little bees and insects hum and sing ever so softly, which is also very soothing. Then the creatures who live about the wind's sleeping place put on their slippers made of moss so that they will not awaken the wind.

But he had been asleep for three days now and he was feeling so wide-awake.

"Funny," he said to himself, as he blew a great long whistle, "that people should all be sleeping."

In that way, you see, he was like those who cannot understand how some one else feels asleep when they have had their sleep and feel all rested.

"Yes, he repeated, it is funny that they should all be asleep."

"As for me I feel wide-awake."

"I feel like blowing everywhere. Oh, I want to wander far this evening. I want to take long strides across the prairies and blow the wheat and the barley and the rye and alfalfa."

"I want to take great steps across the tall roofs in the big cities and blow around the city corners and blow down the long streets."

"I want to take a rolling, tumbling, rough trip across the ocean and see the waves rise up to meet me and greet me with their gay white caps and blue green gulls."

"I want to take steps across run-ling streams and little lakes and blow the water skimming, skipping along. "I want to go to the great forests and see the trees bend and hear them sing."

"Oh, how I do want to hear the trees sing."

"I want to whistle as they sing and though there will be no one around to hear we shall love the music we make."

"The trees of the forest never need an audience. For long years they have sung their songs with no one around to hear. And they have sung just as beautifully as though they were before a large audience."

"In fact they have sung far more beautifully for if they had had an audience they could never have sung so well. The forest trees need their own setting for their voices. Places where there are crowds of people would not do for the forest trees."

"There would not be enough of them, and there would be too many people."

"Oh, I am so wide-awake. I shall start off now, and oh, such a trip as I will have."

So the wide-awake wind went off, and he took long strides across the prairies, and great steps across the tall roofs in the cities and around the city corners.

And he took a tumbling, rolling trip across the ocean, and he took steps across little brooks and lakes and rivers, and then he went to the great forests. And he sang and the trees sang.

And all over, that night the wide-awake wind gave his strange, beautiful, odd, lonely, comforting song to the sleeping world.

"Big, Willie, how many slivers have you?"

"Three, but I don't mind you so don't make any more on the train."

New York's Milk Cleanest in World

Ithaca, N. Y., Feb. 16.—"New York city has the cleanest and safest milk supply of any large city in the world. This is maintained by the rigid inspection of production, transportation and distribution," said J. E. Thompson of the Bureau of Foods and Drugs of New York city when speaking at Farmers' Week here.

The environment of milk is inspected and guarded in all the process from the farm to the consumer. Milk is the easiest food to contaminate and is responsible for more sickness than all other foods combined. The distribution of milk is guarded by permits which are issued for its sale and guarded by compulsory pasteurization. The revoking of a permit usually follows the open violation of the sanitary code adopted by the Board of Foods and Drugs and the violator is subject to civil or criminal action.

The effectiveness of compulsory pasteurization may be noted in the marked decline of tuberculosis. In New York city, before the advent of compulsory pasteurization in 1913, there were 49 cases and seven deaths from tuberculosis in 100,000 people. After compulsory pasteurization had been in effect for three years, there were 28 cases and four deaths among 100,000 people. In 1926 only 15 cases and two deaths from tuberculosis were reported. Infant mortality dropped even more markedly during this time.

In concluding, Mr. Thompson asked the hearty cooperation of the dairy farmers in keeping the milk supply of New York city clean. "It is a problem, not for the Board of Foods and Drugs, but for the farmers themselves to solve," he said.

LOW GRADE FRUIT IS SPOILING MARKET

Growers are trying to market too much of their poor fruit, according to Professor G. S. Peck, speaking before a Farmers' Week audience at Ithaca, N. Y., February 7. The market is being spoiled by poor packing which is ruining the reputation of New York fruit. To bring out this point, he cited that poorer quality Virginia apples are bringing more than New York apples because the Virginia fruit is packed much better.

All of the expense of fertilizing, spraying, and cultivating are wasted if farmers allow inexperienced men to harvest their fruit and pack it carelessly. Apples that are good when on the tree may be bruised in loading and in packing and then will look bad when the barrel is opened at market.

Size and color are important factors in market quality. Apples, peaches, and pears that are picked and sold before they are ripe ruin the market and lower the prices for better fruits. Color and size of fruit can be improved by starting to cultivate the orchard early in the spring, and by stopping in late June or early July. This gives a longer period for fruit to mature and for the cover crop on the orchard to grow.

The way fruit keeps in common or cold storage depends largely on how it is picked and handled. When immature fruit is stored it does not color well, and it is likely to mold.

Labor for picking should be paid by the day to discourage careless handling. But some growers find it better to pay by the package with a bonus for packages which show careful handling. Peaches and delicate apples require prompt harvesting at maturity and need to be placed in storage immediately, especially during hot weather.

CLOVER GOOD CROP ON NEW YORK FARMS

Clover is valuable for New York farmers both as a fodder crop and as a soil improver, according to Professor J. H. Barron, speaking before a Farmers' Week audience at the New York state college of agriculture at Ithaca, N. Y., February 7. Clover increases the yields of grain crops in rotation with it, especially when lime is applied to the clover. Shorter rotations, lime, farm manure, and acid phosphate give more clover and, also, produce considerably higher yields of other crops in the rotation.

Use of seed adapted to the region in which it is planted is important. Local and domestic seed is usually best and yields more than foreign seed in the first and subsequent years.

The federal seed staining laws, applying to clover and alfalfa seed, seek to discourage the use of foreign seed. They provide that imported seed is adapted for the United States shall be stained ten per cent red. Imported seed of known origin, except Canada, but of unknown adaptability, shall be stained one per cent green. Canadian seed, which is well adapted to this country, shall be stained one per cent violet. Some seed grown here in the United States is often not good in other parts of this country.

FARM STOCK

USE SELF-FEEDER TO REDUCE COSTS

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture)

Self-feeding of sows and their litters not only saves time needed for other farm operations, but also gives more satisfactory results, say animal husbandry experts of the United States Department of Agriculture. During tests carried on by the department both sows and pigs kept in the self-fed lots looked better and were more thrifty than those in the hand-fed lots.

When hogs of any age have constant access to self-feeders there is practically no danger of their overeating, according to Farmers' Bulletin 1504-F, "Self-feeding Versus Hand-Feeding Sows and Litters." This is of considerable importance in the case of sows which are suckling their litters. An additional advantage of the self-feeder system is the freedom from overcrowding at the feeders which is usual when hand feeding is practiced.

The general plan of feeding the self-fed lots was to supply certain feeds in the self-feeders which were constantly accessible both to the sows and their pigs. The sows and pigs in the hand-fed lots were given twice daily all they would readily eat of identical the same feeds as were contained in the self-feeders for the self-fed lots.

It is advisable to raise two litters a year from sows more than a year old on farms having sufficient equipment, thereby reducing the overhead expense per pig.

Details concerning the tests are given in the new publication, a copy of which may be obtained free, as long as the supply lasts, upon application to the Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

Definite Plan Required for Feeding the Horses

Adoption of a rather definite plan for feeding and replenishing the farm work stock is one way that is open to many farmers to cut down expenses and thereby increase profits. In the opinion of J. L. Edmunds, chief in horse husbandry at the college of agriculture, University of Illinois. At the present time this matter is too frequently neglected, he says.

Good crop rations which involve the growing of a liberal acreage of legumes produce an abundance of excellent horse feed. When legume hay, such as clover, alfalfa and soy beans, are used for horse feeding they can be fed more satisfactorily and economically if one-third to one-half of the roughage is made up of a carbonaceous roughage. Oats straw, corn stover and similar feeds are satisfactory for this purpose during parts of the year. Sheep oats could be much more widely used than they are. The point is that legume hays should not be overfed.

Sweet clover pasture supplies both good and cheap feed. Some permanent blue grass pasture is necessary for horses; nothing else will stand as much tramping as a good blue grass sod. However, the sweet clover pasture supplies an abundance of feed when the blue grass is practically dormant during the hottest weather.

When market prices of coarse grains are as low as they were this year the wise plan is to use these feeds to store horse and mule motors for farm work. Their use for this purpose reduces power costs and tends to increase prices of these grains by helping to keep big surpluses off the market.

Breeding Ewes Require Best of Feed in Winter

For their feed in the line of roughage, there is nothing better or cheaper than alfalfa or clover hay, bean straw and roots for sheep. If the ewes go into winter in good condition and have plenty of these feeds, they will need no grain until within a few weeks of lambing time. Even if one has only a fair amount of these feeds and gives them with corn stover and straw, the flock will usually do well.

When one has not enough alfalfa, clover or prairie hay or bean straw to supply at least one good feed a day, some grain should be given to furnish a fair amount of protein. The ewe must have a certain amount of this kind of feed to properly nourish the fetus and grow her wool. Oats are splendid for this purpose. Given in a very good feed to mix with alfalfa or with the chopped roots.

It is very seldom with a fair-sized flock that all the individuals feed well. Those that do not should be separated from the flock and be given special care.

Raising Sheep and Wool

The farmer raising sheep must find a sale for both carcasses and wool. The world demands both. The demand for carcasses is modified by competition in other supplies of meat, such as beef, pork, etc., and is further affected by transportation, as to its cost, convenience and the provision of refrigeration. The demand for wool is affected only by competitive supplies of cotton, flax or silk, or each of these has its particular value to humanity.

COMMERCIALISM TAKING HOLD IN OXFORD

Oxford, England, Feb. 16 (AP)—In a year or two Oxford customs may be just legend, for the traditional dignity of England's center of culture is giving way to the non-chalance of brisk commercialism.

A huge factory for low priced motor cars has not only given the old university town a very commercial aspect, but it has crowded the city with factory workers that it is now difficult for the students to find lodgings within easy distance of their colleges and has disrupted the academic calm of the place. Many students fear that the traditional undergraduate life, with the college halls and common rooms as its center, will become permanently extinct.

Both Fighters Are Confident

New York, Feb. 16 (AP).—Jack Delaney, cool, suave boxer with a smashing right hand, is ready for his test Friday night. Bubbling over with good spirits and supremely confident of his ability to whip Jimmy Maloney in their ten round bout at Madison Square Garden, the light-heavy-weight champion is "on edge" and waiting.

While defensive drill alone will suffice to keep Delaney at the peak, his thumping rival from Boston, down to 202 pounds, is whaling his sparring partners around the work-out ring at Long Branch, N. J., in a last minute drive for perfection of attack.

Maloney hammered away at his mates for ten rounds yesterday, ripping to the body the particular type of short left and right hooks his advisers believe will change the "fashioning blade" of the ring to a "department store sword"—bent in the middle, as "Dynamite Jim" himself expresses it.

One of Maloney's sparring partners, a large negro named Leonard Neblett, was knocked out in the second round of his scrimmage with Boston's former fish merchant. A right to the head crumpled him to the canvas and added a massive cauliflower ear to his features. It was the second time Maloney has finished Neblett with a single punch during the training period.

The Boston giant developed unusual speed of foot in his ten rounds of real fighting—speed and punching power enough to bring the following proclamation from Dan Morgan, crafty boxing authority: "Delaney will be no match for him with his straight hitting with his left, short right hand punches to the body, natural fighting spirit, ability, speed and youth."

Maloney too was confident that the end of the match Friday night will find him full stride closer to a title match with Gene Tunney.

"I'll just die trying in there if necessary," he said. "I know he's a good fighter but I have two hard sets and that makes it even. I've got the best of it with a 25 pound weight advantage and the man never lived who could spot me that much weight and make me say 'uncle.'"

YOUNG JUDEANS LOST TO KINGSTON ALL-STARS

The Young Judeans lost their first game Monday night on their home court, Community Center, to the Kingston All-Stars to the tune of 25 to 12. The game was very fast from start to finish and Referee Spiegel had his hands full. Alcon and Periman of the Young Judeans were held to one field apiece by Oliver and Fisher. Raichle, Callum, Snyder and Boice helped by corraling points from all angles.

This victory makes the sixth straight win for the All-Stars. They would like to challenge the Chryslers on the S. A. court.

Swimmer May Try Out for Baseball

Chicago, Feb. 16 (AP).—If he cares to do so, George Young, the Catalina channel swimmer, may try out for the Chicago National League baseball team this spring. The team trains at Catalina Island from which Young started his successful swim to the California mainland.

William Veeck, president of the Chicago Cubs, met Young yesterday while the Toronto swimmer was looking over Chicago from the Wrigley Building tower.

"Can't you use George as a substitute this year?" Veeck was asked by William Wrigley.

Veeck turned to Young.

"Do you play ball?"

"I played ball in high school,"

George answered.

"We will try you out, sure,"

Veeck said. "Were you a hitter?"

"I hit pretty well," the channel conqueror replied.

Young stopped in Chicago on his way to Toronto, where a homecoming celebration has been arranged to honor him. After the homecoming Young will resume his vaudeville engagements, probably in Buffalo. Later he will return to California where, according to Mr. Wrigley, the boys' mother bought a home.

Successful Card Party

The card party held by the ladies of St. Mary's parish Tuesday night was a marked success both socially and financially. Many enjoyed the card playing and a goodly number received attractive prizes. Refreshments were served for those who wished to partake.

Important to Mothers

On January 10, 1926, according to popular record, the town of Chappin was discovered. This event has attracted a great deal of attention in the field of research and history, inasmuch as such discovery is in common history.

I'm telling you straight—P. A. is the works

PUT it down now for a double-riveted, copper-cornered fact: Prince Albert will give you more pleasure to the cubic inch than any other tobacco you ever packed in a pipe. Maybe I'm prejudiced. Even so, my statement holds. I'll leave it to you, after your first P. A. pipe-load.

Cool as a claim-adjuster. Sweet as an unexpected inheritance. Fragrant as pine-boughs, swaying in a summer breeze. Mild, but not willy-nilly, if you get me. And of course you do! Make the test today and check-in with what I've been telling you.

Buy a tidy red tin of P. A. and follow these simple directions; Tuck about a thimbleful into the bowl of your favorite pipe. Light up, and pull that cool, consoling smoke up the stem. Exhale slowly and get the full benefit of that wonderful Prince Albert taste.

You'll probably say I wasn't enthusiastic enough! Anyhow, get some Prince Albert now and get on the sunny side of pipe-pleasure. No matter what your previous experience with a pipe has been; no matter how set you appear to be, try Prince Albert. It will be a revelation!

All-Stars Will Be Reorganized

Monday evening several members of last year's All Stars and several local business men held a meeting and decided to run the All Stars again this season.

John McCordie was selected for the manager's job again this year. He with the aid of the men that are going to back the club, expect to put a high class semi-pro club on the road or some at all. They expect to make several changes which will no doubt make the All Stars worthy of their name.

This season the locals will be without the services of Ross Vogt, start first sacker and last year's captain. Punk's fielding and hitting ability made him one of the best first basemen turned out of Kingston in many years. This along with his personality makes a severe loss to the All Stars.

It is not known who will be captain as yet but this will be made known shortly. The management is also after a man who is capable of coaching the club as acting field manager. The All Stars were badly in need of a man to do this work last season and are going to get one for the coming season.

There was also a committee composed of Walter Black, James Merritt, Preston Knight, Joe White and John McCordie, who will stage a dance on Saturday evening, February 26, for the benefit of the club.

Erect Bleachers For Big Smoker

St. Mary's Hall will be equipped for the smoker to be held there Monday, February 28, in the most practical way in order that every fight fan will be able to procure a seat. The large bleachers used at the basketball games in the armory have been secured and will be placed in the spacious hall. This will enable all to get the best view possible of the fist encounters. It is also planned to have 100 or more reserved seats which will be held for the persons holding reserved tickets. Each seat will be marked with a number to correspond with a ticket.

The bouts that will be on the card will be the best obtainable and will bring some of the fastest men procurable together. The main affair will be between Vince Coffey and a scrapper of ability with whom negotiations for the battle will be completed within a few days.

Bill Reedell, who was at first named as the "Fighting Cop" instead of "The Fighting Cop" by one of the smoker officials, will appear against Charlie Fisher and the bout will be one of the best on the program.

claim the fans who have witnessed both scrappers in the squared arena in the past.

Other local fighters who will be matched with men from up and down the Hudson will be Roy Van Buren, "Coke" Costello and Billy Little.

W. H. JOHNSON, LEAD FIGHTER IN THE LEAD FOR HONORS

St. Petersburg, Fla., Feb. 16 (AP).—W. H. Johnson of Buffalo apparently is not too old at 36 to go after honors. He is on the way to the championship of the National Lawn Bowling Association of which he is president.

Teamed with an octogenarian, a man past 70, and a younger player, Johnson was victorious yesterday over a favored Canadian team, 18 goals to 11, and moved into the semi-finals. F. J. Callough of Toronto, captained the losing team.

The Canadians earned the score in another match. S. W. Parker, of Preston, Ont., captained a team that was more aggressive than one led by H. H. Davidson of St. Petersburg.

Captains National Champions

Eugene Cavillier's own score of 509 out of a possible 600 enabled the George Washington University Girls' Rifle team, of which she is captain, to win the national championship. Her team scored 2891 points, one more than the University of Missouri team.

Red Shields Drub Employed Boys

Probably the most outstanding basketball accomplishment of the season and even for a considerable period of past years was the feat performed by the Red Shields Tuesday when they defeated the Employed Boys of the "Y" by the score of 114 to 24.

The first half of the contest terminated with the score 57 to 1 in favor of the Red Shields. The Employed Boys were simply lost during the frame and could shoot but one foul while the opposing quintet rolled up the handsome aggregate. The Red Shields sunk the ball from all angles of the court and were perfectly at ease with every player dropping the sphere accurately at will and also guarding his specific opponent in the style.

Don Joyce was the outstanding scorer of the game and his total made 28 points. He was followed by DuBois with 23, Merritt with 23 and Hyatt with 16. E. Smith, who functioned in a guard position, played eight with the addition of play that was a fine flow game.

Druha was the outstanding scorer of the lower and managed to secure eight markers. The other boys were simply out of form it appeared and could do little to stop the famous Red Shields.

The score:

Red Shields.	F. G.	F. P.	T. P.
Joyce, rf.	12	9	28
Merritt, lf.	11	1	23
Hyatt, c.	8	0	16

Employed Boys.	F. G.	F. P.	T. P.

SWANKS WILL NOT MAKE EUROPEAN TOUR

New York, Feb. 16 (AP).—European tennis centers, where Suzanne Lenglen gained world supremacy and women amateurs, will not see the French star in action as a professional under the banner of Charles F. Pyle, who won her from the amateur lists.

Disagreement over terms for Suzanne's services caused abandonment of the proposed European tour, announced yesterday. The had called for a swing through France, England, Germany and other countries this spring with the prospect of substantial stars that made it.

Mrs. Lenglen's troupe in her previous completed American tour.

Suzanne's demands approximated the same terms that brought her the last fall as a professional. Pyle said Mrs. Lenglen received a 50 percent of $20,000 and 25 percent of the gate receipts. She received $100,000 for the tour, including expenses for commercial use her name. Pyle said.

Otherhoods Praise Report

Report by Protestant, Catholic and Jewish Churches on Western Maryland Labor Trouble Compiled by Two Railroad Brotherhoods

Frederick, Feb. 16 (P).—The report of the Western Maryland railroad labor trouble, which was enthusiastically acclaimed to the report on the subject published jointly by bodies representing Protestant, Catholic and Jewish churches, chief of the locomotive engineers, and D. B. Robertson, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Firemen, said that the union constituted "a jury which found the case," and that the union found had strongly urged the general morality and justice of the union content.

A statement dealt with the joint action of the research division of the Federal Council of Churches of America, the Social Action Committee of the National Catholic Conference, and the Social Commission of the Central Synagogue of American Rabbis. The union investigators had determined, union officials said, that the union on the Western Maryland, began in October, 1925, really was a "lockout" by the railroad of its engine employees, which followed up by a withdrawal of the union from the railroad, and to come back into service, the railroad unjustified in its refusal to take back strikers and restore their seniority rights in service. "Our men were given the choice either to give up the fruits of a lifetime of service," the Brotherhood's statement said, "or to submit to arbitrary control of their lives and work by their employer, in absolute violation of agreements of long standing. There was no real choice. Submission to lawless, immoral force always means further submission with less power of resistance. The union men were locked out. New men were employed, and seniority rights, earned by the old employees through 20 and 30 years of service, were transferred to the new employees. How could the ministers of the church view such a wrong to men as anything, but an insult to God?"

M. C. Evers, president of the railroad, was held to be the chief antagonist by the Brotherhood statement, and John D. Rockefeller, Jr., the largest individual stockholder in the enterprise, who has been declared "out of sympathy with the road's labor policy," was urged to insist that its management change front. President Evers was declared to be "out of step" with other railroad heads and the Western Maryland was said "to rest its case upon the law of the jungle, relying on force and fraud." "The Western Maryland strikers will continue to have the support of their national organizations, the statement said and so long as the railroad holds its present position, it was added that "there can be no peace among the men employed by it." It was added that the pensioners whose income was stopped during the strike and since, had been restored to the payrolls as of January 10, 1927. This action, it was said, indicated that

"the injustice perpetrated upon these old engineers has been fully recognized by President Evers," but that "some one higher in authority ordered such action or his conscience compelled the restitution of the money that had been forcefully withheld from them."

LIVE Y-ER CLUB DANCE ON MONDAY EVENING

The Live Y-er Club of the Y. W. C. A. will have a dance on Monday evening, February 21, at 8 o'clock. Forty Kingston High School girls are members of the club and all members are busy selling tickets to their school friends. Tony Turck's orchestra will furnish the music.

Miss Gainsall of the high school is assisting the club with the play and will also act as one of the chaperones. The cast of characters is as follows: Mrs. Wiggs ..... Aletta Davis Australia ..... Edna Britt Europa ..... Beatrice DuBois Asia ..... Dorothy Maine Jimmy ..... Ruth Isherwood Lady ..... Katherine Davenport Pete ..... Mexcal Toms Miss Laury ..... Helen Seeger Annie ..... Martha Gold Chris ..... Kitty Fogarty Miss Hazy ..... Margaret Fairley Since there will be a school holiday on the day after the dance, Washington's birthday, the Live Y-ers are hoping for a large attendance.

Singer Shot Dead By Jealous Wife

Vienna, Feb. 16 (P).—Trajan Grossavacu, tenor of the Vienna National Opera, was shot dead by his wife in a fit of jealousy at the moment the couple were entraining for Berlin where the singer was to fill an engagement.

Grossavacu was popular with the Viennese public. He sang many roles with Marie Jeritza, the Austrian operatic star.

EMPLOYMENT DURING JANUARY THE SAME

Washington, Feb. 16 (P).—In all but a few major industries, the Federal Employment Service said today, there was as much employment throughout the country during January as in December. Such decline as was noted in the number of workers employed was largely attributed to the usual winter conditions which stop outdoor construction work, which resulted in the idleness of some classes of seasonal workers. The outlook at the end of January was said to be for increased employment by iron and steel works, and by automobile plants, with the demand for agricultural labor getting under way in southern territory. There also was noted a resumption of activity on the part of textile mills, particularly those in the south, though there was still a surplus of mill labor available among cloth manufacturing centers.

Studebaker's 75th Birthday Announcement

Sweeping Price Reductions

The Commander, Studebaker's
Big Six Brougham, reduced

$200

Today—February 16, 1927—Studebaker celebrates its seventy-fifth birthday with price reductions which reflect the aggressive spirit of this Company.

Studebaker has lived and grown for seventy-five years because of its consistent policy of keeping ahead of the procession.

Studebaker Custom Cars, introduced recently, exemplify this policy. They have been the most widely imitated cars ever produced. In less than six months no less than a dozen manufacturers have introduced what they call "custom models" . . . but a custom name doesn't make a custom car!

As Studebaker leads in design, so does it also lead in value. The new prices quoted below represent a supreme triumph of One-Price manufacture.

Quake Death Toll Won't Exceed 100

Belgrade, Jugia Slavia, Feb. 16 (AP)—Only the fact that the regions shaken by the earthquake in Jugia Slavia were sparsely settled prevented a heavy death toll in the series of tremors early Sunday. Late reports from the affected areas in Herzegovina, Bosnia and Dalmatia indicate that the loss of life will not exceed 100. The number of houses that collapsed is estimated at 200. The government is taking all possible measures for relief of the victims, but communications are still impracticable and only a few doctors with emergency medical supplies have been able to get to the scene by airplane.

LAST NIGHT on the RADIO

Tremendous volume, a very little static and a tendency to spread characterized reception Tuesday evening. Very early stations were W X, WSB, WBBH and WJLD. Late reception was not as strong as early. Among the best were KDKA and WPG, not interfering and so strong they completely submerged even signals from stations that usually interfere.
Something happened to WHN to cause that all but lost voice to come back with a volume as great, almost as that of WGY.
Slightest dial movement brought in another station but unfortunately it was too often the case that from two to six stations appeared together. What can be expected with over 700 stations broadcasting? And there are 150 more in process of erection. Meanwhile, a little group of Senators clamors about "freedom of the air" and blocks regulatory legislation.

Address to Women On Constitution

Well Known Speaker Given Interesting Talk on Important Subject Before the Saugerties Monday Club.
The Saugerties Monday Club held a worth while and interesting meeting at the home of Mrs. Henry T. Keeney, Market street, on Valentine's day, February 14, with nearly every member present together with a number of visitors from out of town despite the bad weather condition. The meeting was opened by singing "America, the Beautiful," and at the close of this song Miss Hermine Schwed of Staten Island was introduced by the president as the speaker of the day. Miss Schwed has been field secretary of the National Association for Constitutional Government for the past three years and has traveled from coast to coast making speeches, which has given her a great advantage to speak upon the subject she selected, "America, and Her Problems."
Miss Schwed started her address by saying that although she has a foreign name she was born in Alabama, U. S. A. She then spoke upon the Constitution of the United States, how little it is being studied in the high schools and colleges of this country today and that a great multitude of people are not aware of the fact that the Constitution at the present time is endangered unless we study and become more acquainted with it. Miss Schwed then spoke briefly upon the World War and of being unprepared. She mentioned little Switzerland and of the one year military training there for each able bodied man and that country has had peace for many years. Miss Schwed said that she is not the least militaristic but firmly believed in following the Constitution when it says we should "provide for common defense."
Freedom of Speech.
The attacks upon the constitution of the United States was the next topic taken up by Miss Schwed who stated that the many remarks and slurs made upon the men who wrote and framed this wonderful document were not true, but that they all were great statesmen. The next topic taken up was the real freedom of speech. Many organizations permit speakers to try to inflame audiences, urging them to overthrow our Constitution and believe it is all right so long as the speaker does not commit the crime himself. Miss Schwed spoke of an article quoted by Dr. Merrill E. Gates, former president of Amherst College. To this she added that it should be just as much of a crime to incite an audience or even one person to crime as to commit the crime itself, and that she would like to add a 20th amendment to the Constitution to that effect.
Thought Should Precede Change.
The last part of Miss Schwed's address was in reply to the many who say our Constitution is unchangeable, which is not so because it has already been amended 19 times and can be amended 19 times more if the people of this great nation desire to do it in the proper way, but the framers of our Constitution intended that all changes should be made with deep thought.
Miss Schwed ended her address by stating "If the people of America—rich and poor, black and white, men and women, workingmen and employes, Catholic, Jew or Protestant—let agitators (often paid for the job) have their way and make this country like Russia, destroy the very Constitution which protects and gives freedom to every man Jack of you—well, I promise you faithfully that you, like Alexander Schwartz, will wish to God you had the good old Constitution back again."
Miss Schwed has been asked by the Saugerties Monday Club for a return engagement. She has twice favored the people of Kingston with addresses.

A social and dance will be held under the auspices of the St. Cecilia Club in Red Men's Hall, Esopus, on Friday evening, February 18. An enjoyable evening is anticipated for both young and old. Refreshments will be on sale during the course of the evening.
Ulster County Pomona Grange.
The next regular meeting of Ulster County Pomona Grange will be held at the Plattkill Grange Hall, on Friday, March 4, at 10:30 a. m. There will be reports from delegates to the State Grange. Dinner will be served.

Your Income Tax

Bad debts constitute a considerable item in the returns of many taxpayers and may be treated in one of two ways, either by deduction from gross income in respect to debts ascertained to be worthless in whole or in part, or by deduction from a reasonable reserve for bad debts. A taxpayer filing for the year 1926 a first return of income may select either method, subject to approval by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue upon examination of the return. If this method selected is approved it must be followed in returns for subsequent years, except as permission may be granted by the commissioner to change.
Permission to adopt the reserve method is limited to taxpayers having a large number of accounts where credit has been extended to cover a considerable portion of time. It is not granted for the purpose of handling one specific debt.
What constitutes a "reasonable addition" to a reserve for bad debts must be determined in light of the facts and will vary as between classes of business and with conditions of business prosperity. A taxpayer using the reserve method should show in his return the volume of charge sales (or other business transactions) for the year, and the percentage of the reserve to such amount, the total amount of notes and accounts receivable at the beginning and end of the taxable year, and the total amount of debts ascertained to be worthless and charged against the reserve during the taxable year.
